SENATOR BEN SASSE DEFENDS KNIGHTS AT JUDICIARY COMMITTEE HEARING

6/5/2019

By Andrew Butler

The hallowed halls of the U.S. Senate were the site of a provocative but important question by Sen. Ben Sasse to a judicial nominee: “Are you now or have you ever been involved in the organization of a fish fry.”

It was funny, but it wasn't necessarily a laughing matter. At issue was the recent move by some of Sasse's colleagues to question judicial nominees about their membership in the Knights of Columbus. At a recent U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee hearing, Sen. Sasse (R., Neb.) defended the Knights of Columbus in a series of questions to Peter Phipps, a nominee for United States Circuit Judge for the Third Circuit. Phipps is a Knight belonging to Edward Douglass White Council 2473 in Arlington, Va.

Sasse then asked Phipps if he had gotten questions for the record about being a member of the Knights of Columbus. Phipps said he had received questions during the process for his district court nomination back in May 2018.

Phipps is not the only judicial nominee to be questioned over his membership in the Knights. Last December, Brian C. Buescher was questioned about whether his Knights of Columbus membership would prevent him from “fairly and impartially” hearing cases on the U.S. District Court for the District of Nebraska. Several senators stated that the organization had “taken a number of extreme positions” on the issues of same-sex marriage and abortion.

Phipps explained to Sasse that the Knights of Columbus is a Catholic fraternal organization dedicated to uniting men of faith. He noted that it was founded in the late 19th century to help provide for families at a time where many men faced dangerous working conditions.

“It’s a charitable organization,” Phipps said. “It’s an organization that has social and recreational activities that many members of my family have really enjoyed and really benefitted from.”

Sasse then provided for the record a number of facts about the Knights:

Knights of Columbus are the largest Catholic fraternal service organization in the world. In 2017 the Knights volunteered and contributed more than $185 million to charitable organizations and activities.

Also in 2017, Knights volunteered more than 75,600,000 service hours.

The Knights have a proud tradition of standing against the forces of prejudice and oppression such as the Ku Klux Klan.

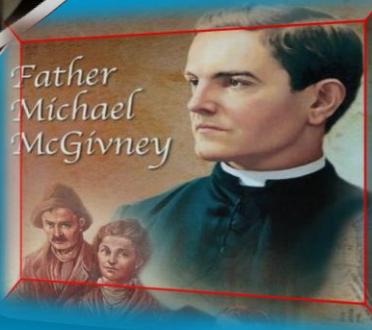

Sasse expressed his concern that questioning over membership in the Knights is “becoming common practice on the committee.”

“I really hope we reconsider this new tradition on this committee of asking people about their religious commitments.”

This is not the first time Sen. Sasse has come to the aid of the Knights. In January of this year, he introduced a resolution adopted by unanimous consent that “disqualifying a nominee to federal office on the basis of membership in the Knights of Columbus” violates that anti-religious test clause of the U.S. Constitution

STATE WARDEN-ELECT

SCOTT HULSE

Biography

Scott Hulse, the Washington State Council State Warden-elect, is a native of the Pacific Northwest; however, he and his wife, Jo, resided elsewhere on four of the seven Continents for more than forty years, only returning to Washington State after Scott retired. Jo and Scott refer to the time away from Washington State as their forty years of wandering in the desert. Scott left Washington State following graduation from the University of Washington. Scott received a Bachelor of Science degree in Geological Sciences and a degree in Mine Engineering from the University of Washington, and a Master of Science degree in Geophysics from the University of Arizona. Thirty years later, Scott received a PhD in Radiological Health Sciences from Colorado State University. Scott is also a Professional Engineer.

Scott lived in India during his early years, returning to Washington State briefly to graduate from Renton High School and the University of Washington. Scott and his wife were married 8 September 1968. They have a son, a daughter, and four grandchildren.

Scott began his journey to Catholicism while serving in Antarctica, where he was responsible for the Amundson Scott South Pole Station during the 1999-2000 Austral winter. Fr Bede Haughey (a tremendous fly fisherman) and Fr. Humphrey O'Leary, Catholic Chaplains from New Zealand serving the Antarctic program, led Scott into the fold. Both Jo, who joined Scott on his journey to Catholicism, and Scott were Confirmed in Germany while Scott was serving throughout Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

From the Editor's Desk

By STEVE SNELL EDITOR

We just had a shift of personnel in the Washington State Council of the Knights of Columbus. Today and in the next few weeks you'll be reading about them. Tomorrow it may be about none of them, but tomorrow for sure, you'll be reading newsletters and road signs. For a good newsletter, like good gossip never dies. If it's good, it improves, like a Stradivarius.

If it's bad, it can be like a bullet riddled speed limit sign,

BARELY NOTICED AND IGNORED.

Looking in the rear view mirror at the past issues it seems to me that while some were better than others, you should remember that a whole story is often better than any of its parts, or vice versa. Because of several unrelated but personally challenging character flaws, I will often include several articles that seem to lack the boring constancies we've all come to expect in other publications, please hold your applause until the end. In short my Brother Knights while this can be viewed as "troublesome" to some, it's informative and entertaining to those of you who are artistic, talented, perceptive, caring, patriotic, defenders of life, and believers in family values, (you know who you are.) So we will continue our attempts to inform, to report the thoughts, and the many achievements of our state and yes, the humor that we have become famous or infamous for will continue because:

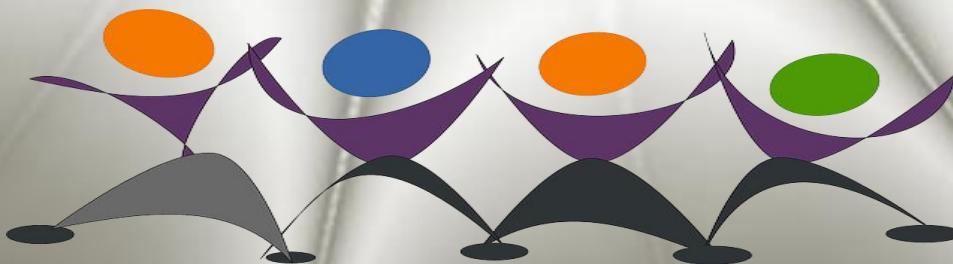

We believe our Creator, must have had a sense of humor.

How else would you explain.....some of us!

Seriously my Brothers we love hearing from you, we love an occasional "not bad."

BUT, if in the unlikely event you feel we've screwed up, (Perfection can be boring.) Please don't hesitate to contact us, because;

WHEN ALL IS SAID AND DONE WE WOULD RATHER BE CRITICIZED THAN IGNORED.

MEMORIAL DAY

All gave some. Some gave all.

BATTLEFIELD CROSS

When a serviceman or woman is killed in action, it has become customary to arrange the fallen comrade's rifle pointing downward along with his or her boots and helmet. The rifle and bayonet also signals a time for prayer, a break in the action to pay tribute to the one who died. The helmet and identification tags signify the fallen comrade, whose name is never to be forgotten. The combat boots, worn and dirty, represents the final march of the last battle.

JOHN 15:13 NKJV

Pope: Abortion is never OK, equates it to 'hiring a hitman'

Pope Francis likened abortion to hiring a hitman and said the procedure can never be condoned, even if the unborn child is gravely sick or likely to die.

Francis made the comments during a pro-life conference sponsored by the Vatican. He stressed that abortion isn't a religious issue but a human one.

"Is it licit to throw away a life to resolve a problem?" he asked. "Is it licit to hire a hitman to resolve a problem?"

"Is it licit to throw away a life to resolve a problem? Is it licit to hire a hitman to resolve a problem?" — Pope Francis

The pope also condemned abortion decisions based on prenatal testing, stating that a human being is "never incompatible with life."

This applies to those babies who are destined to die at birth or soon after, he said. He stressed the importance of providing medical care to such babies in the womb and support their parents so they don't feel afraid and isolated.

"Taking care of these children helps parents to grieve and not only think of it as a loss, but as a step on a path taken together," Francis said.

The latest comments follow the Pope's previous condemnations of abortion, though he struck a somewhat more conciliatory tone towards the women who had the procedure and made it easier for them to be absolved of the sin of abortion.

SACRIFICE

HIM

Always he stood to watch the trains go by –
Small boy, tall youth and man –
For adventure lay beyond the valley's rim
Where rails of silver run.

Stone walls might bind his farm but not the dream
His heart could not deny –
Yey there were subtler bonds to hold him fast
As the many years went by.

And still he stands on his hard won ground
To hear the trains go by.
His eyes too dim to see the hills that trapped
A dream that will not die.

HER

To the west she looks with eyes that cannot see
The splendor of the sun,
They are too tired looking all the day
At tasks that must be done.

To memories long dead –
She wipes the frying pan, blows out the lamp
And stumbles up to bed.

SHE COMES & SHE GOES

(MY MEMORY)

Little boy blue, come blow your horn.
The sheep's in the meadow, the cows in the corn.

I Can't remember the rest of this the first poem that I ever memorized, maybe it will come to me latter or then again maybe not. This is the way my memory sometimes treats me; nothing that she brings to me is rarely complete, (I refer to my memory as a female because they puzzle me also.) She is unreliable and often unfaithful to me, if she was a clock she could be called broken. For example I remember "swimming" in a huge mud puddle, when I was just a little boy on Grandma's farm, but I have no memory of getting out again; now if memory were all we had to trust, I should be compelled to believe I was still sitting there in a big mud puddle in my grandma's drive way.

BY STEVE SNELL
We begin a new life every second, we must move forward and happily meet it face to face, belly to belly. We can do nothing better than to press on whether we want to or not; we will do best with our eyes before us rather than consistently looking behind us.

There is no re-walking the path of our life. The fragile bridge of life, on which we walk, sinks back into eternity with every step we take. Our physical past is gone from us; it belongs to us no more. Not a single word can ever be unspoken; not a single path re-walked. Therefore it falls to us, as true knights to move forward bravely into our future to meet our challenges head on and not burden ourselves with any failures from the past. WAIT; pardon me but I just remembered another old poem from my school days.

It's raining, it's pouring,
The old man's is snoring.
He got into bed
And bumped his head
And couldn't get up in the morning

This little triumph of memory seems like an RIP of sadness from another time & place, a boyish attempt at coping with a loss. Yet it is the brightness, not the darkness, we enjoy the most when we look back. My memory can make the sun shine or when she's in a mood she can bring on the fog.

Church is more than a habit or a memory, it's a must;

I remember going to church when I was very young, don't remember the first time, but I was there every Sunday, Dad said God wanted me there and just as important was the fact that Dad wanted me there. Today it is just as important, maybe more important, I can "feel" Dad and God watching me. I don't want to mess with God, and there is no way in h..... I'm messing with the old man! (Then there was Mom, she would be real unhappy if Dad or I missed church, when Mom was unhappy the sun would hide behind the clouds).....SEE YOU IN CHURCH!

"They say Time Heals all... But it seems as I get older...The more I miss...
The ones I loved and Lost.

"THE DEVIL WHISPERED IN MY EAR:
"YOU'RE NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO WITHSTAND THE STORM." TODAY
I WHISPERED IN THE DEVIL'S EAR:
"I AM THE STORM."

NEVER GIVE UP ON SOMETHING THAT YOU CAN'T GO A DAY
WITHOUT THINKING ABOUT.

A GOOD EXAMPLE WILL NEVER BE FORGOTTEN, AND HAS TWICE THE VALUE OF GOOD ADVICE.

Wardens, and Formation Degree Staff Coordinators.

Please be advised that I just received confirmation from our State-Deputy Elect Pat Kelley that we WILL NOT be holding a State-Wide Ceremonial Meeting in August as we have done in the recent years.

WSD Pat and I are discussing alternative means of disseminating the information normally presented at the ceremonial meeting at the Summer Leadership and other Regional meetings that the State Officers are planning for the coming fraternal year.

Please send me a note or give me a call if you have questions.

STATEMENT ON RESEARCH USE OF FETAL TISSUE

Supreme Knight Carl Anderson's Statement:

The Knights of Columbus applauds the action taken today by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to end research by the National Institutes of Health (NIH) using fetal tissue obtained from elective abortions. Over the past several years, NIH has spent millions of taxpayer dollars pursuing this unethical research and today's announcement is an important step ensuring that public funding is not used to support a practice that depends on the destruction of innocent human life. We thank the Department for this important action and encourage HHS to ensure that all grants maintain a respect for human life.

FEAR NOT

All of our lives we have grown up being afraid of something(s). We have even been afraid of the unknown, the unseen, and the unfamiliar.

Why is that? Is it really logical to fear something we know nothing about? We even fear some things that are said to be good for us and that promise total happiness.

Throughout the Holy Bible, our Lord says to his followers, countless times, ‘fear not’, ‘fear not’, ‘fear not’. Why does He say that over and over again? I believe He says that because, if we are walking with Him, if we TRUST Him, He will protect us from all harm.

With Him, we can step into the unknown, the uncontrollable situations, the unfamiliar ground, and rest-assured that no harm will befall us. Even when we doubt, we can call upon Him and He will guide and direct us.

He has said it and I believe it, and that is good enough for me and you, and you, and you. “Fear not for I am with you always”.

There is only one condition to the lifting of fear from us...

WE MUST BELIEVE HIM.

Do it and then step out in faith, fearlessly.

PTL,
Manny Aguilar
